

Children's rights workers unite!

Contract cuts, a new legal framework for children's services, job mergers, 'localism', implications of the Children's Commissioner Review... there's never been a more important time to join CROA.

Being a member of CROA means being part of the CROA Community, the biggest network of children's rights workers in the UK.

With the help of our members, we've been at the forefront of the development of rights and advocacy services for children and young people since 1991.

We're still hard at it, embracing change and leading the way in connecting, training and supporting children's rights workers in all their modern day forms.

Our members work across a broad range of services, interests and professions. If you're a professional who is concerned with the rights of children in England then you'll benefit from being a member of CROA.
